

MARPOL AWARENESS COURSE

The International Convention for the Prevention of Pollution from Ships (MARPOL) with its six Annexes has been in force for some years but, as regulation tightens and zero tolerance to environmental damage is increasingly applied, the need for companies to fully comply with MARPOL has become ever more critical.

Azimuth Nautical Solutions provides an interactive 1-day MARPOL Awareness course, which is relevant for those who need to understand the requirements, responsibilities and implications of non-compliance in relation to the MARPOL Convention. The course is aimed at company managers, senior officers, Designated Persons Ashore (DPAs), superintendents, auditors, regulators and those who inspect vessels.
