

BALLAST WATER MANAGEMENT AWARENESS COURSE

Azimuth Nautical Solutions provides a 1-day Ballast Water Management Awareness course, which is relevant for those who need to understand the requirements, responsibilities and implications of non-compliance in relation to the International Convention for the Control and Management of Ship's Ballast Water & Sediments. The BWM Convention entered into force on 8th September 2017.

The course is aimed at company managers, senior ships' officers and Masters, Designated Persons Ashore (DPAs), superintendents, auditors, regulators and all those who inspect ships. The course can be delivered at your premises, onboard or at any other suitable location worldwide.

Compliance is not a simple "Fit and Forget" exercise. As well as technical considerations, there are a number of issues for companies to address within their Safety Management System (SMS). The ISM Code points to the need for a documented plan for implementation and the involvement of the Designated Person Ashore (DPA) and other managers who will need to understand its impact, timing, resource needs, risk mitigations and training provisions. Ballast Water Management will become a favourite topic during external ISM audit verifications over the next few years.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- Plan your implementation programme

- Reduce risk, cost, pollution, deficiencies, non-conformities, detentions, reputation, fines etc.
